

Why Choose a British Solar Module Brand?

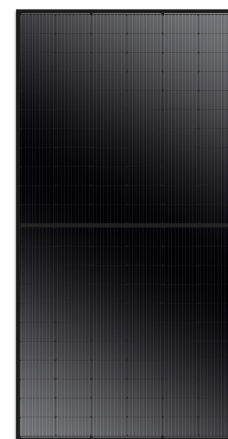

1. Anglo Solar is a British brand of solar PV module. We supply the latest N-Type and P-Type solar cell technology at competitive prices all backed by a 30-year British warranty.

2. We need to support British business if we are ever going create a local solar manufacturing base in Britain. Anglo Solar is an ethical company paying taxes in the UK with strict ESG and anti-slavery policies. Consumers also prefer to buy British brands.

3. The Anglo solar 30-year performance warranty is a British warranty which is supported and serviced by our British company and local customer support team. Who will you call if your Chinese panel fails?

4. Tier One solar modules sound very impressive, don't they? In fact, Tier One only really reflects the balance sheet of the brand and the projects they have delivered. Some have been bankrupted before like Suntech. Tier One does not refer to any improved technical ability. Bloomberg, who provide the rating, does not test any solar panels.

5. Currently around 90% of all solar panels sold in the UK are shipped from China. Anglo Solar are planning to build a solar module factory in Great Britain. This will help create an independent solar supply in the UK, create jobs and make us less dependent on shipping from China and so further reduce the solar supply chain carbon footprint.
